

“★★★★★ A MASTERPIECE!”

Powerful, compelling and graceful in the way it cuts back and forth between these characters in 1978 and today.”

– Jonathan Rosenbaum, The Chicago Reader

The Same River Twice

a film by
Robb Moss

“PIERCINGLY POIGNANT then-and-now portrait of five friends who worked as summer guides on the Colorado River in the 1970’s. As the movie flashes back and forth between a carefree summer excursion and the former river guides as they are today, the aura of collective happiness in the clips – of the group dancing naked, and rafting through white-water rapids and singing by a campfire – is so palpable it puts a lump in your throat.”

(Critics Pick) – Stephen Holden,
The New York Times

“★★★★★! A thoroughly entertaining crowd pleaser!”

– Eric Campos, Film Threat

“A free-spirited group of friends once led rebellious lives as white-water river guides in the ‘70s. This engaging film captures how their priorities have changed... dramatically captures life’s transience.”

– Emma Perry, Time Out London

DIRECTOR, PRODUCER, CINEMATOGRAPHER Robb Moss
ASSOCIATE PRODUCER Linda Morgenstern
EDITOR Karen Schmeer

NEXT
LIFE
FILMS

BALCONY RELEASING

www.samerivertwice.com